"A Bounce Back in My Spirit"

We've recently talked about being an overcomer in Christ (see 1 John 5:1-5). Tough stuff happens in life, but in Christ we have and will overcome. We can be resilient. As I heard one person put it; "I've got a bounce back in my spirit".

I recently read an article titled "Increase Your Resilience", taken from John Eldredge's book called "Resilient". I'd like to share some key parts of the article with you. It's directed at pastors, but I think you'll see it applies to us all.

How to "Increase Your Resilience"

1.No More Band-Aids. "...the reality is that nothing will fix the problem(s) other than Jesus. You may feel like you need a vacation, but really you need a nice long dip in the River of God."

2.Keep Your Head—Jesus Still Rules.

3.You are Strong Enough to Thrive. "Claim your supernatural endurance and power: the Spirit of God lives in you."

4.Scarcity is a Lie. "Our God is the Father of all good gifts and takes care of his children."

5.Leave No Pockets of Resistance. "When you remain attentive and fully submitted to God, you will know how to reject every false savior and push back against every seduction."

Wow. Those are good. I pray you have a "bounce back in your spirit" today!

Pastor Jason and Chrissy Away

Chrissy and I are taking advantage of the generous "weekend away" you gave us. I'm grateful that Sunday Service will be in good hands while we enjoy Niagara Falls. We are grateful for you and thank you again for this weekend away.
